Dear Chief Justice Roberts:

On reviewing the Supreme Court Order dated April 30, 2012 denying my Petition for Writ, I have come to the sad conclusion, that your Order was based upon arbitrary and capricious motives and on totally inadequate and unsupported claims that have been made against me.

All claims against me are premised on prejudice and conspiracy which I believe existed between the Respondents, Respondent-judges, their attorneys and the trial courts-both Federal and State- in the State of Tennessee.

One need not be a Harvard Law graduate to know that if my case was allowed to go before a jury as mandated in Amendment VII and Article V of the US Constitution, the defendants would have been found guilty on all counts.

Kindly complete the enclosed form and mail it back to me in the stamped self addressed envelope. All documents filed with the Supreme Court may be safeguarded for review by future US Administrations and legal research scholars. This request may seem moot, since a National News Medium has already placed these on the internet for all to view. These may be viewed on line at www.usnews.us.com and following the links or directly at www.usnews.us.com/entrypage.html

Very Truly Yours,

Francis J. Savarirayan
